DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-8 and 10-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Taggart (US 6,475,435) in view of Takehana et al. (US 4,888,936).

Taggart discloses an apparatus and method for sterile packaging comprising fluid manifold 126; fluid shoe 150; wiper 216; pair of roller arms for holding caps (see figures 10-13). Manifold 126 and shoe 150 are in communication with each other and the other sterile air dispensers in the sterile tunnel 90. The fluid manifold 126 dispenses a hot sterile vapor (hydrogen peroxide solution), which is later dried by hot sterile air out of shoe 150. The fluid shoe of Taggart does not provide a fluid to the caps however Takehana et al. disclose a fluid dispensing shoe which dispenses a fluid to both containers and caps located in holding arms and then applied by wiper 9 (see figure 2). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to use the teachings of Takehana in the invention to Taggart for applying caps to bottles in a sterile manner. The holding arms of Takehana do not seem to be rotatably affixed to the frame however the examiner takes OFFICIAL NOTICE that securing positioning arms in a rotatable configuration would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made.

Conclusion

3. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
